Our Afternoon Workshops:

What to bring:		Pieces of Me Roald Dahl	Feel the Beat The Three Little Pigs	Performarama Mrs Twit	Imagination Station The BFG	Mystery Workshop
Packed lunch	Sun hat	Did you know that Roald Dahl's favourite smell was frying bacon? In our introductory workshop to the amazing Roald Dahl, you child will learn the essential, fun facts about the infamous writer and will also get to create some fun facts about themselves too! Not to be missed and guaranteed to be lots of fun!	Did you know that Dahl loved writing poetry? His beloved and funny "Three Little Pigs" is one of his funniest and will really tickle children in this rapinspired workshop. Children will read the infamous poem, learn how to beatbox, get into groups and then create a fun rap together! Bringing Dahl's poems into the 21st century!	Focusing on chapter four of The Twits , we will start off this workshop looking at a "compliment" and what exactly this means. Everyone will be asked to write a compliment on a post-it notes and place on another child's back. A great way to boost confidence and self-esteem. Children will also create their very own "Anti-Twit Good Thoughts Poem" identifying ways to avoid becoming like Mrs Twit!	We will experience the journey of Sophie and The BFG using improvisation, movement, voice, drama, and Dahl's wonderful rich language. Exploring "Giant Country" we will get to design our very own "Giant" mask and the chance to improvise and play all of the characters Whizzpopping and Bloodbottling all the way! This workshop is going to be glorumptious!	Every week we have a Mystery Workshop. We keep this a mystery as it's up to both our fantastic on-site team and our children to determine what activities they will be taking part in. The main reason for our "freestyle" session is to give the children the chance to choose what they fancy doing - whether that's playing outside, painting, singing - you name it!

Welcome and Music Games		Sounds and Colours Quentin Blake	Sounds and Colours Charlie and the Chocolate Factory	Imagination Station Mr Twit	Pieces of Me My Dreams	Imagination Station Fantastic Mr Fox
We start each day with a session that is the perfect introduction for new faces and returning children alike! Starting with a range of wonderfully interactive warm up games, your child will feel at home in no time. Our popular "buddy system" encourages children of all ages to become fast friends from the offset!		Inspired by the music that inspired Dahl in his writing alongside music used in his films, children will listen to a range of musical styles and use their young imaginations to create their own Roald Dahl posters in the style of infamous illustrator Quentin Blake. By the end of this unmissable workshop children will have created their very own artpiece ready to take home!	Did you know that Roald Dahl used to work as a chocolate taster which was his inspiration for Charlie & the Chocolate Factory? In our Charlie inspired workshop, children will learn all about the story of Willy Wonka and even have a go at designing their own chocolate bar or everlasting gobstopperready to take home!	After re-telling the part of the story where Mrs Twit puts her glass eye into Mr Twit's beer mug children will then learn about the disgustorous nature of Mr Twit's Beard! Using shapes, glitter, paint and all things arty children will recreate Mr Twit's beard, filling it with the food, like mouldy cornflakes plus adding delightful elements like bogey and ear wax is at the children's discretion!	Among many things, Roald Dahl's BFG taught us about dreams. This unique workshop will invite children to write the recipe for their dreams, and fill their very own dream jars with all necessary 'ingredients'. Children will be encouraged to think about their hopes and dreams and to store them in their specially created dream jar - ready to take home and keep forever!	After reading a few excerpts of the infamous "Fantastic Mr Fox", children will get to have a go at designing their very own "Wanted" poster to help Boggis, Bunce and Bean to catch Mr Fox! Children will use their creativity whilst listening to a range of music from the film itself! A perfectly relaxing final workshop before our Grand Concert later that day!

Learn Together, Play Together	Grand Concert
Time to get into groups to learn an instrument! There's beginners ukulele/ violin/ guitar (depending on location) . Each session includes our exclusive "Musicianship Matters" – enabling your child to gain a wider understanding of the 'nuts and bolts' of music.	A chance for your child and their new friends to proudly show you what they've learnt! By the end of the week your child will have experienced wonderful musical adventures, made new friends, and developed skills for life. Why not join us at a Term Time Course starting soon?
